WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

MOUNT VERNON.

The Crescent Club, of Mount Vernon, gave its annual spring reception on Monday night, which was attended by about 300 persons. An entertainment was given in the early evening at which Mrs. Joseph S. Wood, soprano; The Amington Glee Club; Miss Florence Genevieve Nokes, soprano, sang; Miss Marie Lechner, gave a piano solo, and J. Williams Stacy, humorist, gave several recitations. Dancing followed the concert, and a supper was served to the guests. Among the large number present were Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Howe, Captain and Mrs. John F. Luther, Dr. W. H. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Brinkerhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. B. H. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Husted, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Price, Dr. H. C. Smith, Dr. M. S. Frazee, Charles Sturtevant, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. King, Miss Letitia Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belcher, Mr. and Mrs. David Gourlay, C. C. Faunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt, Misses Laura and Ethel Huss, William Huss, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Love and Dr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Sagerman.

YONKERS.

City Treasurer Robert H. Getty, of Yonkers, was eighty-three years old yesterday, and is the oldest city official in active service. He has lived in Yonkers for half a century, and is a staunch Republican. There was a constant stream of people into his office yesterday to congratulate him. The Republican party in this city completed its organization last night by the election of a General Central Committee, and the old Central Committee of existence. The party now has a fine organization. The officers of the several ward organizations are shrewd and energetic men.

PEEKSKILL.

The Teachers' Institute of the Third District of Westchester County opened in Oakdale School, in Peekskill, Monday afternoon. The school "marks" old and young, pretty, petite and otherwise, with an occasional principal of the sterner sex, began to arrive early in the morning, and registered until the session opened at 2 p.m., there were 120 teachers present. More came in the afternoon. After the opening exercises Professor Stout, the conductor, enlightened the teachers on the recent changes in the school law. A. D. Dunbar also spoke on "What the School Board does for the schools." A trio of Peekskill girls, the Reformed Church, and listened to an interesting illustrated lecture on "Sun" by Professor E. F. Wetmore. Professor E. F. Wetmore gave some interesting exercises yesterday morning. Professor Wetmore spoke on "Physical Geography." Mr. Stout spoke on "Intellectual Arithmetic." The afternoon was taken up by Professor Wetmore's lecture on "The Subjects of Mathematical Geography" and "Cosmopolitan Power," respectively. Last evening a great crowd thronged the Reformed Church, and heard a lecture by Professor Stout on the "World's Fair" illustrated.

SOMERS CENTRE.

On May 10, 11 and 12 Mount Zion Methodist Church, at Somers Centre, will celebrate its one-hundredth anniversary with appropriate ceremonies. The church is probably the oldest frame church now standing without much repairs, in Westchester County. It is in a historic Revolutionary district, and is described in Cooper's "Spy."

WHITE PLAINS.

PRISONERS THREATEN THE JAILER.—In one week ago, a gang of smallboys was discovered in the county jail at White Plains, and after the police arrived to the posthouse, the jail was quashed by order of the village Board of Health. Yesterday a number of the short-term prisoners, whose terms had expired, rebelled against further imprisonment, and threatened the jailer with fifteen minutes of shooting, singing, etc., until a posse from the sheriff's office quieted them. Health Officer Birch informed the Sheriff that the men should be held in custody for another week.

NEW-JERSEY.

ORANGE.

A VETERAN FOUND DEAD.—Josiah Shipman, a veteran of the late war and a respected resident of Millburn, N. J., was found dead in the yard in front of his home early yesterday morning in a pool of blood. There were suspicious of murder, but these were set at rest by an investigation. Mr. Shipman was seventy-three years old and lived on the McCloud property in Valley Road, midway between Millburn and South Orange. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hague also live on the road, and it was there that the body was found, the body being taken to the McLoud house, and soon after setting up Mrs. Hague went across the road to see what was the matter. She was told that the body of Mr. Shipman lying in a pool of blood, and she only in underclothing and an outing shirt. Dr. Elliott, the county physician, was summoned, and after investigating, was satisfied that the man had fallen from the window. The house was found in perfect order. The window was open, and it is believed that he was pushing open the blinds when he cut his leg. Mr. Shipman leaves four sons and three daughters. He was a member of Wade Post, G. A. R., of Millburn, having served in the war as a member of Company A, 11th New-Jersey Volunteers.

JERSEY CITY.

Mrs. Catherine Mohr was convicted of larceny in the General Sessions Court, at Jersey City, yesterday, under peculiar circumstances. The condemned pliant were two sisters, Mary and Catherine Cosgrove, who testified that they had intruded to their bank book on the Provost, in application for Savings, and had given her $90 at one time, and again when they got the bank book back, they found that the $10 had not been deposited, and that $3 had been taken from the bank, and also insisted that she had deposited the $10. She swore to these statements in court. The bank officers could not identify Mrs. Mohr as the woman who took the money, but they testified that she had never made any deposit to the credit of the Misses Cosgrove. Judge Hudspeth sentenced Mrs. Mohr to State Prison for three years, and $500 fine.

Edward F. Young, president of the First National Bank of Jersey City, has filed with Chancery Court his answer to Receiver William V. Johnson of the Sonnenberg Union Bank. Same record as before, he agreed to disclose the securities held by his bank as security for the indebtedness of James N. Pidcock. Young stated his bank had been an assistant chief officer for sixteen years, and was connected with the department more than twenty years before that, having been in the service of the city. His salary is increased from $100 to $200. Mr. Pidcock, as a member of the firm of Pidcock & Sons, also "owed" the bank between $100 and $200, and the amount which he had to return is unknown." Mr. Young said the bank should be made trustee for the proceeds in excess of the bank's claim, and that a receiver is unnecessary.

ENGLEWOOD.

About $200 was cleared from the fair held on Friday and Saturday of last week for the benefit of the Englewood Hospital. The annual meeting of the Hospital Association is to be held on Monday, May 7.

The Englewood Protection Society held its annual meeting yesterday evening, and the following were re-elected officers for the coming year: Daniel Mackay, president; Samuel A. Duncan, vice-president; Charles F. Park, secretary and treasurer; Dr. J. H. Miller, Dr. J. H. Miller, Dr. Oliver Drake Smith, William L. Bigelow, Shepard Homans and J. Hugh Peters. Clinton H. Blake was elected director in place of the late Lucy E. Hall.

SEWAREN.

The Sewaren Land and Water Club is just about to begin the building of a new clubhouse on one of the most picturesque sites within fifty miles of New York. The club is at the upper end of Lower New York Bay, and is easily accessible. The smaller boats, which cannot venture out in the open sea, have plenty of room in the lower bay, and that part abounds in beautiful and interesting places that an excursion of a day or two can be made.

LONG ISLAND.

CORIMACK—Jacob Harland, aged fifteen, colored, in the employ of Michael Brown, was arrested yesterday, charged with attempting to poison Mr. Brown by mixing some Paris green with some broken wheat, which was being prepared for the baking of cakes. The boy was nothing but a child, but he was requested to administer the poison by one Stepling, a German, who lives next door. The latter denies all knowledge of the matter.

POOLSELLING AT THE COLEMAN HOUSE.

Captain Schmittberger, of the West Thirteenth street station, yesterday morning received a large sheet of paper by mail, upon which was printed the names and odds on the horses that are entered to start in the Brooklyn Handicap, and setting forth one-twenty odds. On the circular was this address: "Leawalt, No. 338 Jersey-ave., New-C.," The captain sent Detectives Kash and Jeroloman to the Coleman House.

He handed the young man behind the counter a $5 bill and asked him to give him Sport to win. The young man refused to accept the money in that way, but told Kash if he would put it in an envelope, seal the letter and write his name and address on the outside he would accept it, and if the horse won, pay him. The detective did as requested and the young man took the money. Then the detective placed him under arrest. The prisoner said he was John Quadra.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

TO SUE EUGENE G. BLACKFORD, SENATOR REYNOLDS OBJECTS TO A DISPATCH SENT BY HIM REGARDING THE ATLANTIC-SAVAGE RAILROAD BILL.

State Senator W. H. Reynolds is having papers drawn up for suit against Eugene G. Blackford to recover damages for libel. The basis of the proceedings is this dispatch sent a few days ago:

"Hon. William H. Reynolds, Senate, Albany:

"Are you bungling me on Atlantic-Sav. railroad bill? There seems to be nothing in the way of passage except want of action on your part. Your dialect will hold you responsible for its fate."

EUGENE G. BLACKFORD.

Senator Reynolds sent this reply:

"Albany, N. Y., April 24.

"Withdraw your telegram to me relating to Atlantic-Sav. railroad measure, or I will take proceedings against you at once for criminal libel."

WILLIAM H. REYNOLDS.

No response has been made by Mr. Blackford. Senator Reynolds said yesterday that he done all his power for the bill to remove steam from Atlantic-Sav. He regards Mr. Blackford's dispatch as an outrage on decency and a piece of wanton mischief.

THE CITY MAY ERECT THE MONUMENT.

There was a consultation yesterday between Alderman Cary, chairman of the Soldiers' Monument Committee, and Mayor Schieren in regard to the proposed erection of a statue as a public tribute to the dead general. The Mayor said in regard to the matter: "I am glad to see so much interest in the proposition to erect a statue, and the city will honor itself in honoring the dead soldier. If the statue is erected at public cost a precedent will be established, for it will be the first of the kind; while if a private subscription is raised, there will be no precedent." Mr. Cary said the popular subscription plan, however, "The statue might be erected by the city, and the pedestal and many figures provided by public subscription."

ALDERMAN CARY.

Alderman Cary said he was in favor of a united manifestation on the part of the city and the public to show the regard and respect in which the city views the soldiers. He regards Mr. Blackford's dispatch as an outrage on decency and a piece of wanton mischief.

A FINE PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION.

The exhibition of the Selma Collection of Alpine and Caucasian Mountain photographs was opened yesterday in Art Assocation Hall, where they may be seen for a week. The collection is lent by the Alpine and Mountain Club, and shown under the direction of the Department of Geography of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. C. Adams is chairman of the committee in charge. There are 325 views of Alpine scenery, divided into twenty-five groups. Matterhorn is especially interesting. There are eight views of the volcano of Etna, in Sicily, and 82 views of the Caucasus Mountains, in Georgia, with 50 of which is ethnological. A group of 12 views of Virginia, Selma, who made the photographs in his own experience in mountain-climbing, appear in the catalogue.

In Justice to Marion Harland

The public should know that years ago she did express a favorable opinion of a certain baking powder "so far as she had any experience in the use of such compounds," but several years later she found that Cleveland's Baking Powder was really the best for reasons stated below, and requested the manufacturers of the other baking powder not to publish her old letter.

Her request was ignored, and that letter is still published, with the date suppressed.

Finding her protest unheeded, she then wrote the following letter to the Cleveland Baking Powder Co.:

April 5th, 1893.

I wish to say that I use and recommend one and only one baking powder, and that is Cleveland's.

Years ago I did use others and spoke favorably of them at the time. In preparing the new edition of "Common Sense in the Household," however, I thought it best to substitute baking powder in the recipes instead of cream-of-tartar and soda, and made a careful investigation of the baking powder question.

Finding Cleveland's Baking Powder to be really the best, I recommended it in "Common Sense in the Household," and now use it exclusively.
